At Lomita Illustrated Talk On Practical Farming

Monday, the Future Farmers of America, at Torrance high school learned through movies and a talk by Ed Everett how ambitious Aggie students of San Luis Obispo run the college. At the same time they heard about the practical side of farming and carrying on student employment at $10 to $20 per month. Landscaping of the college grounds around the new buildings which replace those which are being torn down will be taken care of entirely by landscape students in the college.

Torrance Neon Sign May Have to Be Removed
Removal of the Neon sign over Main street at Carson street, directing traffic to Torrance, may be necessitated in view of a recommendation made to the board of supervisors Monday by the county counsel, Everett W. Mattoon, author of the Mattoon Act.
"No person shall erect or maintain any sign in or on any public highway in Los Angeles county," the county counsel said in quoting the law to the supervisors, whose permission was sought recently by the Torrance city engineer to place a light pole and anchor at the corner of the intersection to support the sign.
Sam Hellman's dialogue is especially brilliant and decidedly real. William Lippmann, novelist and Broadway playwright, wrote the original story.

Sidney and March Win Applause In "Good Dame" Film

"Good Dame," the B. P. Schulberg, Paramount picture co-starring Sylvia Sidney and Fredric March, which will open tomorrow, April 6, at the Plaza Theatre in Hawthorne, can be marked down as a "dare" because it is a picture that must be seen. You'll be sorry if you don't see this!

It presents Sylvia in a new type of role. She's cast as the stranded chorus girl, forced to join a cheap carnival company to get money for a railroad ticket.

Innocent of the ways of men, she falls in with a wise-guy "carnie" gambler. His method of handling women is about as unfair as the trick dealer he hands out to his "yokel" audiences.

But the "good" dame and the "bad" boy are drawn together and after helping her out of scrape after scrape, he still insists "dames" mean nothing to him. From a glasse to whom all actors look alike, March is chastened and turned to a one woman man.

It's a different Fredric March too, one you'll rave about for days. The direction of Marion Gering deserves much credit; likewise the able photography of Leon Shamroy.

Sam Hellman's dialogue is especially brilliant and decidedly real. William Lippmann, novelist and Broadway playwright, wrote the original story.

Get a load of these stars in "Wonder Bar" which will be shown on the double bill at the Fox Redondo tonight and tomorrow.

"SLEEPLESS NIGHTS"

On the bill at the Avalon Theatre, Wilmington, Wednesday and Thursday, April 11 and 12.

Tonight, Friday and Saturday At the Torrance Theatre

The white captain carries off the Eskimo maiden, in the Arctic drama, "Eskimo." A great picture with an all-native cast. On the same bill, Slim Summerville and Zasu Pitts in "Love, Honor, and Oh Baby."

"The Mysterious Mr. X" Comes Sunday and Monday to Torrance

Robert Montgomery plays the lead in this tingling mystery story, supported by Elizabeth Allan, beautiful English actress, and a fine cast. Frank (Bring 'em Back Alive) Buck in "Devil Tiger" will be the companion feature on the same dates.

Three Persons Hurt In Auto Accidents

Cars driven by Charles Clayton, 1905 Cabrillo, and A. J. Fleming, 21728 Halldale, collided Saturday as Clayton was making a U-turn on Carson street near the National Supply Co. Paul Fleming, age 7, was treated at the Jared Sidney Torrance Memorial hospital for cuts. Mrs. Fleming received a number of bruises. The others were not injured.

Leonard W. Warthan, Gardena, was slightly injured Sunday morning when he fell asleep at the wheel and his car struck a tree on 190th street near Western avenue. He was treated at the Jared Sidney Torrance Memorial hospital for minor injuries. His car was wrecked.

Assemblyman Cobb To Run for Senate

Lawrence Cobb, state assemblyman from the 58th district, has announced that he will be a candidate in the Republican primaries, August 28, for state senator from the 38th district, comprising Los Angeles county, to succeed J. W. McKinley, who will not be a candidate.
